WORK BY EQUAL OPPORTUNITY CELL TO MAKE THE CAMPUS DISABILITY FRIENDLY

The Equal Opportunity Cell helps in enhancing inclusivity by regularly conducting workshops and trainings for increasing awareness around the experience and management of disability. The society also stays in constant touch with students who experience academic challenges owing to their special needs and cater to it through infrastructural and institutional procedures. We also have the software Kibo that helps in reading and learning needs of persons with vision disabilities. The following events were held in the academic year 2021-22

Event	Date	Theme
Webinar	August, 2021	Technology Awareness
Two day Workshop	September, 2021	"Indian Sign Language in collaboration with Noida Deaf Society
Campaign	November, 2021	The World of Magical Creatives- highlighted the journey of several disabled content creators who are working towards breaking stereotypes and paving the way for many more.

RESEARCH TRAINING FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS

A crucial component of academic, the college focuses and steadily invests in building and promoting the research acumen of the students and faculty. Faculty Development Programmes, Research trainings by experts and research supervision is an important part of the academic calendars of all departments.

JMC REVIEW

The college publishes an esteemed peer reviewed journal- The JMC Review. It is a journal of criticism, practice and theory. It covers a range of disciplines including anthropology, cultural studies, economics, education, english studies, history, international relations, philosophy, political science, psychology and sociology. Its aim is to provide an interdisciplinary platform for scholarly debates and exchange of ideas. The 2021 (volume five) is centered on the theme, 'Pandemics, People, Politics: Challenges and Futures'. It focuses on the pandemic not only as a global health crisis, but also on the political economy of pandemics in general, and how they impact broader challenges especially relating to the postcolony, magnified by the rise of populist and authoritarian tendencies, legal frameworks and carceralities, state surveillance and military interventions, the decline of democratic rights, climate and planetary disruptions, and challenges to people's power, and other connected implications of the pandemic and its ongoing impacts on livelihood, cultures, and consumption.

DEPARTMENT OF VOCATIONAL STUDIES

B.Voc Courses – B.Voc - Healthcare Management and B.Voc – Retail Management & IT were introduced in 2016 which are a judicious mix of skills relating to professional and general education to ensure students are work ready at each exit option available to them. It is a combination of classroom learning and training to develop new skills. The objective of these courses is to give industry relevant skill training to fill the skill gaps, identified to meet the rising demand in the Healthcare and Retail sector and make students job ready. Students are encouraged to do out-of-the-box/lateral thinking which is done by assigning them various projects, 3-D working models, seminars, workshops, role-plays etc. JMC has tie-ups with leading hospital chains and corporate groups which include Sir Ganga Ram Hospital, Holy Family Hospital, Max Healthcare, Fortis Hospital, St. Stephen's Hospital, Clear Medi Pvt. Ltd., Marks and Spencer, FAB India, HyperCity, Reliance Trends, Bestseller, Aditya Birla etc. Students of both the courses go for internships in each semester to learn practical aspects from the Industry which makes their curriculum very interesting and unique.

CERTIFICATE COURSES

JMC is committed to developing the students in a holistic manner. We believe in empowering students to make informed choices about their lives and career. Towards this goal we not only engage with University prescribed curricula but also expose the students to a range of add-on courses which are optional.

These courses are need based and respond to the constantly evolving requirements in the field. Curricula of these courses are carefully studied by the experts before selection of specific organization to conduct the same.

The courses conducted by the industry and other practitioners are hands-on . It includes industry/studio visit (as required) to provide experimental learning. Our students get an advantage of enhancing their CV's by participating in these courses on the college campus itself, without disturbing their regular classes (as these sessions are held after the main classes are over) and are aligned to the University and college calendar (exams, college activities etc.).

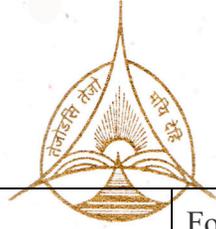

JMC welcomes women students from any other institution as well to attend these courses. There is a formal system of feedback from the students enrolled in these courses in a constant pursuit of improving them. On successful completion of these courses, the students get certificates from JMC and the other conducting agency. These certificates help in seeking internships and jobs subsequently.
